

TWO REGIMENTS ORDERED TO WEST VIRGINIA FRONT

Gen. Bandholtz Is Given Full Authority to Disperse Miners.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE.

At least fifteen airplanes with more than 100 groundmen are included with the units of the two regiments ordered to the zone.

Gen. Bandholtz's instructions covered every emergency that might present itself. They were especially directed to the dispersal of the army and had with him the proclamation of martial law.

President Harding and Secretary of War Weeks made it clear that the government had shown all possible leniency. They were especially gratified by reports from Gen. Bandholtz that Vice President Murray of the United Mine Workers and other officials were co-operating with the army officers on the ground in seeing the men to dispersal, showing that the leaders of the organized miners approve what the army is doing.

Report of Gen. Bandholtz.

Gen. Bandholtz's reports telegraphed Thursday night from Charleston to the War Department, showed that the army was making public yesterday by the Secretary of War.

"Arrived 11:30 this morning," Gen. Bandholtz reported.

Gen. Bandholtz still considers the situation serious. Vice President Murray of the United Mine Workers of America now with the insurgents' aid, is endeavoring to induce them to return home in obedience to President's proclamation. A Mr. Fowler of the National United Mine Workers' organization, and Mr. Petre, the local vice president, reported to me shortly after my arrival. Mingo County indictments against Keeney and Mooney have been returned. These two gentlemen to disappear.

"It is believed that the withdrawal of the invaders as promised by Keeney and Mooney would have been satisfactorily accomplished but for the tardy action of the State as regards the withdrawal of the army. The withdrawal of the army is being delayed and particularly but for the ill-considered and ill-timed advance movement of State constabulary on the night of Aug. 27 resulting in bloodshed. Am sending two staff officers with Mr. Fowler to report on compliance with proclamation.

Workers Ask Assurances.

"Mining workers' officials say they believe peaceful withdrawal can yet be accomplished if invaders are assured they will not again be molested by state or county authorities. Government officials have assured them with a letter as follows:

"To whom it may concern: Parties will not be molested by State or county authorities while making a sincere effort to return to their homes in compliance with the proclamation of the President of the United States.

"I have given him a letter stating my mission, stating that the Governor had assured me persons obeying the proclamation would not be molested and adding in effect that it was hoped and believed that the Americanism and common sense of the invaders would cause them to return at once. My investigation party should return by late tonight or before noon Friday, when immediate report will be made with recommendation as to troops.

Sees No Intention to Obey.

"It is understood from telephone conversations with Major Gassie that troops will be sent to the zone and that the miners are waiting orders. Request commanding general Fifth Corps area is advised to include 26th Infantry in plan for supply of troops. All reports received up to the present indicate that it will probably be necessary to use Federal troops, but very few reports seem to be based on facts.

Shortly after midnight the general wired, "Investigations returned and no report. The invaders have not obeyed President's proclamation and there is no apparent intention to do so. It is, therefore, recommended that the troops now held in readiness be sent to West Virginia without delay."

BABY MUST STAY IN PRISON 2 YEARS

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Baby Florio Odell has one year to serve in prison for a crime she knew nothing about and still has to be so toddle. She cannot comprehend the tragedy it has meant in her life. At Auburn prison she must stay with her mother until she is 2 years old. Under the law children born in prison are taken from their mothers when 2 years old and placed in institutions or with relatives.

Odell was born in prison after her mother began her twenty year sentence for murder. Her father, James Odell, died in the electric chair April 2, this year, without ever having seen her.

DECIDES KRAUS WILL BE FORGED

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Referee John G. Saxo today announced the will of the late Samuel Kraus, the millionaire pencil manufacturer, a forgery, and declared Mrs. Adeline Thomas is not the legitimate daughter of Kraus.

The will left the entire estate to Mrs. Thomas and appointed her and her husband, Oscar N. Thomas, lawyer, executor.

Referee Saxo declared the first sheet of the will evidently had been rewritten on a typewriter and did not conform to the second sheet.

FORD ANNOUNCES CUT IN AUTO PRICES

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, today announced a reduction in the price of all models of Ford automobiles and trucks. Slashers range from $45 for runabouts to $100 for sedans and coupes.

"We are taking advantage of every known economy in the manufacture of our products and by doing that we feel that we are doing one big thing that will help our country into more prosperous times," he said.

FLORISTS.

Appropriate Funeral Tokens
ude Bros. Co. 1214 F St.
Articles—express—insensitive
Prompt and delivery service.
EO. C. SHAFFER 900 14th St. N.W.
PRESIDENTIAL FLORAL SM. ST. PHONE 11
FUNERAL AT MODERATE PRICES. 2045-17-18

MINERS REPORTED TO HAVE SUSTAINED 200 CASUALTIES

Blair Mountain and Mill Creek Are Scenes Of Hardest Fighting of Entire War In West Virginia Hills.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE.

The first to capitulate. But there has been no capitulation. Instead, men have taken guns in their hands. Perhaps the miners dread the prospect of another winter with only a tent as a shelter for their families. But whatever the immediate cause of their latest action may be, they are in the hills, armed and fighting, and in response to the call of civil law the military takes control.

Regulars Inspire Dread.

Possibly not the machine guns of the army, perhaps not even the rifles, will be sufficient. Thoughts of the "regulars" bring a chill to the heart of a civilian, when the civilian does not know that "the regulars" are fighting for him. The whirl of an airplane above is disconcerting when you feel that the airplane is looking for you.

Reports from Logan State today were that the miners and deputies were engaged in a final desperate fight between Logan and Boone counties. According to information received, the miners were endeavoring to force the calling of government troops in the hope that through them they might gain relief from grievances which they claim result from the military guard system that is being maintained.

Power Given Bandholtz.

Scattered over a stretch of twenty-five miles, the fire from both sides swept from ridge to ridge, and rifles and small arms spoke their hate. The State, under martial law, will have the powers of a czar, because civil guarantees will no longer bind. He will administer the command, however, so as to disrupt as little as possible the civil government and to interfere no more than is absolutely necessary with normal agencies.

Bandholtz is an affable, approachable individual, with the bearing of a soldier. He is inclined to jest if a jest is possible, but when occasion demands, has all the dignity that any situation might demand of a representative of the Federal government.

He is kindly and makes friends readily. But one can imagine him being decidedly "hardboiled," as his soldiers would say.

That is why he studies the big war map on the wall at headquarters with the idea of distributing his forces just as if he were in a battle. None is expected, but disobedience to Federal mandates will be suppressed with the greatest vigor.

Scout Planes in Action.

Headquarters has been equipped to handle with the greatest rapidity the movement of forces in the field. Radio apparatus will be installed at strategic points throughout the trouble area, so detachments in the mountains away from communication will be immediately in touch with headquarters. In addition, twenty-four planes will be at hand to scout over the mountains where there are few roads. Ten of these planes made a reconnaissance today in advance of the arrival of troops.

The first demand of the Federal government, it is indicated, will be that all citizens refrain from carrying arms. An order compelling them to surrender arms, however, probably would not be issued. The lawless elements would evade the order by hiding their weapons while the law-abiding citizens would obey. Then if there were trouble the "good citizens" would be at the mercy of the others.

Two Nights in Progress.

And the demand will be made of course, that the miners disperse. There may be regulations forbidding men to congregate, but the policy will be to issue as few orders as are possible in the effectual carrying out of intervention.

While troops were being rushed to the southwestern counties, hostilities broke out again between the Logan County forces and the miners' army. Two battles were in progress, one at Blair Mountain, and the other in the Mill Creek-Crooked creek sector. Word was received here that no deaths had occurred, and there were no reports of deaths on either side. Miners have no way of reporting their casualties. Reinforcements were received by both forces.

Will Surround Miners.

Logan County waited with deep anxiety for the arrival of Federal troops. The hostile forces have been in contact and in battle almost continually for two days, and the defenders are wearying under the strain. Twelve hundred men are scattered along a twenty-mile front, extending from a point at the mouth of the Federal troops will move into the affected territory in such a way as to virtually surround the miners. One contingent—the soldiers from Ohio—will occupy Boone County and part of Logan County, moving up the Coal River Valley. Part of the New Jersey contingent will go into the valley of the Guyandotte and the town of Logan. This will put soldiers on both sides of the miners.

Other New Jersey troops will have headquarters in Charleston, and will be in a position to occupy the Cabin Creek area.

Says He Found Clergymen Fighting on Side of Miners

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Phillip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, who came here from Indianapolis, believes that trouble will exist in West Virginia so long as the mine guard system is retained.

"After making a survey of the entire situation in the disturbed section, I am forced to conclude that there is but one solution to the whole question as it affects the miners."

BAND CONCERT.

Band concert by the United States Marine Band at the White House this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. William H. Battleman, leader; Taylor Branson, second leader.

Program.

March, "Old Comrades".....Tulloch
Overture, "Rachini".....Hutton
"Albion Leaf".....Hutton
Clarinet solo, "I Puritani".....Hutton

WIFE TAKES HUSBAND'S ADVICE

And Is Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"The doctor told my husband that I had to have an operation, otherwise I would be a sickly woman and could not have any more children on account of my weakened condition. I refused to have the operation. My husband asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For the first four months I could do but little work, had to lie down most of the time, and was very nervous, but my husband was always reminding me to take the Vegetable Compound, which I did. Of my eight children this last one was the easiest birth of all and I am thankful for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend it to my friends when I hear them complaining about their ill health."—Mrs. M. NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass.

WIFE TAKES HUSBAND'S ADVICE

And Is Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"The doctor told my husband that I had to have an operation, otherwise I would be a sickly woman and could not have any more children on account of my weakened condition. I refused to have the operation. My husband asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For the first four months I could do but little work, had to lie down most of the time, and was very nervous, but my husband was always reminding me to take the Vegetable Compound, which I did. Of my eight children this last one was the easiest birth of all and I am thankful for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend it to my friends when I hear them complaining about their ill health."—Mrs. M. NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass.

WIFE TAKES HUSBAND'S ADVICE

And Is Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"The doctor told my husband that I had to have an operation, otherwise I would be a sickly woman and could not have any more children on account of my weakened condition. I refused to have the operation. My husband asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For the first four months I could do but little work, had to lie down most of the time, and was very nervous, but my husband was always reminding me to take the Vegetable Compound, which I did. Of my eight children this last one was the easiest birth of all and I am thankful for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend it to my friends when I hear them complaining about their ill health."—Mrs. M. NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass.

WIFE TAKES HUSBAND'S ADVICE

And Is Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"The doctor told my husband that I had to have an operation, otherwise I would be a sickly woman and could not have any more children on account of my weakened condition. I refused to have the operation. My husband asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For the first four months I could do but little work, had to lie down most of the time, and was very nervous, but my husband was always reminding me to take the Vegetable Compound, which I did. Of my eight children this last one was the easiest birth of all and I am thankful for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend it to my friends when I hear them complaining about their ill health."—Mrs. M. NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass.

DAUGHTER OF MAN WHO KILLED PRIEST TO ASK PROTECTION

Mrs. Gussman Charges Plot in Birmingham To "Frame" Her.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Ruth Stephenson-Gussman, 19-year-old daughter of a man who is fast developing into one of the greatest legal dramas in the South's history, tomorrow will appear in Chancery Court prepared to ask for an injunction against alleged plots to kidnap her, do her bodily injury or confine her in an insane asylum.

Her appeal is the latest development in a series of sensational incidents following the killing of Father James E. Coyle, priest of St. Paul's Cathedral here and dean of the Catholic Church in North Alabama, by her father, Rev. Edwin B. Stephenson, Methodist minister.

Refused Police Aid.

The girl, whose testimony is chiefly counted on by the State in its effort to send her father to the gallows, has filed a petition for injunction and protection, charging that her life is being threatened, that her liberty is in jeopardy, that a plot is on foot to send her to an asylum and that Birmingham police have refused her protection.

Appearance of Mrs. Gussman in court tomorrow will mark the second scene in the legal fight following the killing of Father Coyle. Two weeks ago at her father's preliminary hearing, Mrs. Gussman gave testimony which was chiefly responsible for his bond and which the prosecution expects will prove that the killing of the Catholic priest was a premeditated act.

Church Wins Fight.

This strange drama, in which a minister of one faith killed a priest of another, in which the daughter whose marriage precipitated the killing has become the prosecution's principal witness; in which a struggle between religious convictions and the closest ties of blood have been decided in favor of the church and in which the head of the Catholic Church in Alabama has formally charged that the killing was inspired by propaganda against his church, has created interest and excitement in Birmingham which promises to make the Stephenson case rank with the famous Leo Frank case in Atlanta in bitterness.

Reads Bible to Cell.

Calmly reading his Bible in his cell, and refusing to see anyone except attorneys and relatives, Stephenson has apparently paid little attention to the series of events following his arrest.

The first of these came at the solemn pontifical requiem mass over the body of the slain priest, conducted by a noble assembly of Southern Catholic dignitaries. Bishop Edward P. Allen, of Mobile, head of the Catholic Church in Alabama, formally charged during his sermon that Stephenson's deed was the outcome of anti-Catholic propaganda and vigorously denounced politicians and discreet societies, which he said, had fostered hatred of the Catholic faith and institutions in Birmingham.

Arrest of Gussman.

Following return of the minister to jail, Pedro Gussman, the Porto Rican whose marriage precipitated the tragedy, was suddenly arrested at the request of Peoria, Ill., police, on suspicion of having murdered his wife there last November.

After two days in jail where his father-in-law is confined, it was discovered that the Pedro Gussman accused of the Peoria crime was another man.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Following return of the minister to jail, Pedro Gussman, the Porto Rican whose marriage precipitated the tragedy, was suddenly arrested at the request of Peoria, Ill., police, on suspicion of having murdered his wife there last November.

After two days in jail where his father-in-law is confined, it was discovered that the Pedro Gussman accused of the Peoria crime was another man.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

Gussman walked from the jail to the office of his attorney where they immediately drew up the plea for court protection setting forth sensational charges. The following day the attorney filed the bill for Mrs. Gussman issued a public statement saying that he had been threatened in an anonymous letter for accepting the case.

ALEXANDRIA MEN AT FRONT ROYAL CEREMONIAL TODAY

Special Train Leaves at 10:15 o'Clock This Morning.

THE HERALD BUREAU, A. S. Doniphan, 121 King Street.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Sept. 2.—About 150 members of Acca Temple, Mystical Shrine, of this city, go to Front Royal, Va., tomorrow where they will participate in a ceremonial session tomorrow night. The Alexandria men will carry with them fifteen neophytes, who will cross the "burning sands of the desert."

The local Shrine has arranged for a special train which will leave King and Henry streets at 10:15 tomorrow morning. Identification certificates may be obtained of the ticket agent at the Union Station, or from P. W. Latham. These certificates will entitle the holder to obtain the reduced rate, and are good till September 6. The Alexandrians will return home early Sunday morning.

As a result of an automobile collision on the Camp Humphreys road, near Woodlawn, Fairfax County, late last night, five persons were injured, but none seriously. The most severely hurt is Robert Mack, colored, of this city, who was driving a party of six riders from Alexandria. Mack is under treatment at his home for internal injuries. He refused hospital treatment.

Miss Louella Stout, of Bridgeton, N. J., who is the guest of Miss Josephine Blake, in North Washington street, received treatment at the Alexandria Hospital for bruises and cuts. Three young women from Washington, who were in the big army truck which collided with the truck from Alexandria, were given first-aid treatment for cuts and bruises at the base hospital at Camp Humphreys.

Both trucks were north bound, and the Alexandria truck, the property of D. G. McWhorter, had stopped on the road. Mack, the driver, was about to climb into the machine when the collision occurred, and he was knocked down and run over.

Members of Seminole Tribe, No. 35, Improved Order of Red Men have arranged for a big convocation the night of September 21, when 150 members from Washington will be here. Degree work will be conferred. A parade will precede the initiation, a social to follow.

The Columbian Players have arranged for a trip over Labor Day at Leonardtown, Md. The trip will be made in automobiles and the members will leave Sunday morning, following the first mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

WARNS CLIQUES OR KLAN TO OBEY LAW

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Edward J. Brennan, head of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice here, today announced any activity of the Ku Klux Klan in this district would be taken up by his agents.

"The office of the bureau of investigation here, while conducting a tracing investigation of Federal law is conducting an investigation of the Klan or any body of law-abiding citizens," Brennan said. "It is, however, greatly concerned in protecting the public and it is whether it is called a clique or a Klan, wanders without the pale of the law, it will immediately be brought under inquiry."

MEYER'S SHOPS

1331 F St. N. W.

September 3, 1921

OUR STORE IS OPEN TODAY

Today we usher in the first OPEN SATURDAY—

We are doing this to allow shoppers to take advantage of last minute buying before the Labor Day outing or trip.

As a result of an automobile collision on the Camp Humphreys road, near Woodlawn, Fairfax County, late last night, five persons were injured, but none seriously. The most severely hurt is Robert Mack, colored, of this city, who was driving a party of six riders from Alexandria. Mack is under treatment at his home for internal injuries. He refused hospital treatment.

Miss Louella Stout, of Bridgeton, N. J., who is the guest of Miss Josephine Blake, in North Washington street, received treatment at the Alexandria Hospital for bruises and cuts. Three young women from Washington, who were in the big army truck which collided with the truck from Alexandria, were given first-aid treatment for cuts and bruises at the base hospital at Camp Humphreys.

Both trucks were north bound, and the Alexandria truck, the property of D. G. McWhorter, had stopped on the road. Mack, the driver, was about to climb into the machine when the collision occurred, and he was knocked down and run over.

Members of Seminole Tribe, No. 35, Improved Order of Red Men have arranged for a big convocation the night of September 21, when 150 members from Washington will be here. Degree work will be conferred. A parade will precede the initiation, a social to follow.

The Columbian Players have arranged for a trip over Labor Day at Leonardtown, Md. The trip will be made in automobiles and the members will leave Sunday morning, following the first mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of various beef in Washington for week ending Sunday, August 27, 1921, on shipments sold out range from 8 cents to 18 cents per pound and averaged 13.32 cents per pound.—Adv.